Program Implementation Status

Program Description (By Housing Element Program Names)	Objective	Timeframe in H.E.	Status of Program Implementation
Land Use Element and Zoning Code Implementation	Designate land at densities that provide a variety of housing types. A supporting objective is to designate sites sufficient to accommodate the City's need for housing as determined through the RHNA.	Continuous	The City is currently nearly built-out, the City will create new opportunities by creating a new zoning district, adding residential use to an existing zoning classification, and by increasing residential building densities and ensuring that development standards facilitate rather than hinder development at the densities needed to provide housing affordable to lower income residents, recognizing the predominant lot sizes available for future development in the City.
Residential Development Program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Maintain a "developer contact list" to encourage investment in the neighborhoods having underutilized sites. • Ensure adequate public improvements are available to all sites through CDBG and General Fund revenues. • Create a Development Task Force to facilitate the development process in neighborhoods with underutilized sites. 	Jan 2001 to June 2014	The Bellflower Boulevard/Oak Street Redevelopment concept plan has been adopted and is being implemented. A developer contact list is being maintained and developers are being solicited for redevelopment opportunities. Infrastructure is available to support planned residential development.
Section 8 Rental Housing Assistance Program	and continue to participate in the Section 8 program.	Continuous	Eligible renters made use of the Section 8 program as funds were available. The program is run by Los Angeles County, which does not maintain statistics separately for the City of Bellflower's corporate boundaries. According to the Housing Authority, 689 vouchers were leased to Bellflower residents as of January 2010. This is an increase of 56 vouchers since 2004.
Affordable Housing Density Bonus Program	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To provide ten very low and 10 low income units between 2003 and 2006. • Continue provision of the density bonus: inform developers of the program availability. 	Jan 2001 to June 2006	The City has revised the density bonus provisions in the Zoning Ordinance to complete with current State requirements. Since the last Housing Element, the City has approved five affordable senior housing developments using zoning mechanisms to increase density and to reduce required open space, setback and parking requirements. Lower income seniors occupy majority of the units. The City has continued to promote its housing programs in selected neighborhoods, and will continue preservation activities. In 2011, the City's goal was to preserve and upgrade existing affordable housing stock. The City was able to assist one household through its Rehabilitation Program, 575 properties through code enforcement, and assisted with the rehabilitation of four (4) housing units through Little House.
Homebuyer's Assistance Program (HAP)	Provide home ownership opportunities to 15 households annually through implementation of the First-Time Homebuyer Program	Continuous	During the program period, the City has actively advertised the HAP in its publications, but has not produced special handouts and brochures in public buildings throughout the City due to budget constraints. Due to elevated cost of housing in the area during the past several years, the program has been inactive as very few applicants who met the program's income qualification requirements could qualify to purchase a home within the City. However, with the completion of Belmont Court in October of 2013 the City was able to assist 4 homebuyers during the 2013 calendar year.
Mortgage Credit Certificate Program	Assist five low-income, first time homebuyers during the program period, which ends June 30, 2006.	Jan 2001 to June 2006	No MCCs have been issued to homebuyers in the City as the MCC Program was on hold for most of the planning period. Though the MCC program is limited, it does provide an opportunity for lower income households to become first-time home buyers. The City will continue this program as part of its County Partnership Program, aimed at distributing information about key County programs available to assist renters and homeowners.
Family Housing Program	A partnership between the City, Habitat for Humanity, and Long Beach Affordable Housing Coalition to develop new housing for extremely low and very low-income families.	Summer of 2002-2005	Not existing. In the past an agreement was made, but initiated by Long Beach Affordable Housing Coalition.

Zoning Standards Implementation	The City will implement the zoning standards, as well as other program initiatives, to facilitate the construction of 645 housing units.	Continuous	The City's net gain in housing units between the 2000 Census and the 2006-2008 estimates was approximately 644 units.	Continuous	Due to staff and funding limitations this program was not implemented. During the course of the planning period it was determined that the cap on improvements has never been exceeded and is not a constraining in any way to the provision of affordable or market rate units.
Affordable Housing Incentives	The numerical target is to provide for sites that facilitate the development of housing units for very low and low-income households. Continuous	The City's net gain in housing units between the 2000 Census and the 2006-2008 estimates was approximately 644 units.
Emergency Shelters and Transitional Housing	No quantified objectives were established for this program.	Continuous	The City's net gain in housing units between the 2000 Census and the 2006-2008 estimates was approximately 644 units.	Continuous	The City has also amended the Zoning Code to allow emergency shelters in the (C-G) zone by right without any other discretionary permit required. To better accommodate emergency shelters in the City, specific siting and operational standards and conditions for approval have been developed in accordance with State law.
Code Enforcement Program	The numerical target is to process 2,000 - 2,500 housing code enforcement cases for all income levels during the 2001 - 2006 program period.	Continuous	The Code Enforcement Division provides for the enforcement of codes to residences in low and moderate income areas and to eliminate slum and blight in former redevelopment areas. Homeowner Improvement Program	Based on its Five-Year Consolidated Plan and the Annual Plan project allocations, 48 housing units will be rehabilitated during the program period. Since the 2003-2004 fiscal year (sic), the City uses HOME funds for all Home Improvement Programs and First Time Homebuyer Assistance Programs.	Continuous	During the program period, a total of 50 dwelling units were rehabilitated pursuant to this program. The City's Housing Rehabilitation Program is currently inactive, there is no waiting list and it is uncertain when this program will be reinstated.	Continuous	During the program period, a total of 50 dwelling units were rehabilitated pursuant to this program. The City's Housing Rehabilitation Program is currently inactive, there is no waiting list and it is uncertain when this program will be reinstated.
Multi-Family Improvement Program	Based on its Five-Year Consolidated Plan and the Annual Plan project allocations, 50 multi-family housing units will be rehabilitated during the program period, which extends from January 1, 2001 to mid-year 2006. Because HOME funds are used to fund this program, all the rehabilitated multi-family housing units will be occupied by very low and low-income households.	Continuous	Funds were depleted; thus, program is no longer existing since 2005. In addition, landlords lacked interest in participating in the program because they are hesitant to put restrictions on rent.
