Preservation of At-Risk Affordable Housing	Continue to monitor at-risk units.	Throughout the planning period	Kings County continues to monitor the potential units at-risk. Three projects with 117 deed-restricted units have affordability covenants that could expire within the upcoming planning period. None of these units are within the Kings County jurisdiction; however, the County will continue to provide support to the cities with at-risk units whenever possible.
Adequate Sites	Designate adequate sites to meet Kings County's housing needs of 1,094 units for the new planning period	Throughout the planning period	Kings County is in the process of updating its General Plan Land Use Map, Zoning Ordinance, and Zoning Map to provide adequate space for the construction of multiple types of dwelling units. The County will maintain appropriate land use designations to provide adequate sites appropriate for new housing to meet Kings County's housing needs allocation.
Density Bonus Program	Amend the Density Bonus Ordinance in conformance with current state law.	Code amendment by 2010.	Kings County will update its Density Bonus Ordinance during the upcoming reporting period.
First Time Homebuyers Program	Provide 10 to 15 loans per year.	Throughout the planning period	In 2009, Kings County obtained $600,000 in CDBG Funding, part of which has been earmarked for supporting first-time homebuyers in upcoming reporting periods.
Section 8 Rental Assistance	Support the Housing Authority's Section 8 program by promoting the program via the County website and brochures at County Offices.	Throughout the planning period	The County continues to work with the Kings County Housing Authority to ensure that as many Section 8 vouchers as possible are distributed in Kings County.

These rehab projects may include weatherization and energy-efficiency upgrades as part of the program.
Single Room Occupancy (SRO) Housing	Address the needs of extremely-low-income persons through SRO housing.	Code amendment in 2010-2011	This project has yet to be completed.
