Equity Framing

- CARES Act resources are designed to prevent the spread of COVID and to reduce the harm caused by COVID. ESG-CV funds can be used to make approaches to housing and services more equitable, sustaining and humane.

- The safest place for people to be during the epidemic is in housing. COVID-19 has amplified the historic and current racial biases and discrimination embedded in our systems, processes, and practices.

- People most harmed by COVID, housing instability, and homelessness include racial minorities, especially Black and Indigenous people, those who are elderly, and those who have health problems, especially respiratory problems.
We have an opportunity to do this differently

Urgency does not have to be in conflict with equity. If we incorporate people with lived experience and diverse partners into the planning process; engage them in execution of our vision, and honor new and different approaches, we can save lives and house people at the same time.
Building Blocks for Equity

- Expand trusted partnerships with people with lived experience, they will be critical at engaging vulnerable people and developing a more comprehensive approach to planning and program design.

- Collect quantitative data and track outcomes by demographic data to examine if there are disparities that need to be addressed. Add to this, qualitative data and experience. It’s critical to have a diverse group analyzing the data including people with lived experiencing.

- Partner with community-based organizations that can provide culturally competent services and expertise to shape planning that can lead to more equitable access and outcomes.

- Across all positions, hire a diverse staff that is representative of the people being served—this includes hiring people with lived experience of homelessness. Then train and support them.

- More information and tools available at Racial Equity
Housing is the safest place during a pandemic

- Maximize the use of Rapid Rehousing

- Rapid Rehousing can serve high need households and those with zero income. If needed they can be bridged to other housing.

- Create housing focused shelter to move as many people out of congregate shelter as possible—support all staff to encourage the movement to housing including helping guests connect with family and friends for housing options.

- Train Street Outreach staff to connect unsheltered households to coordinated entry and housing options
